

The Wigglesworth

Christmas 2007

2007 continues to be a year of changes.

Memorable moments for AmandaEve were co-teaching Greek II at Rocky Mountain College. Attending a women's retreat in B.C. (and visiting with friends during the trip). Being the camp director for our Alberta church camp. Being part of a team who developed and hosted a weekend event to present linguistics and Bible translation to college age inquirers. Working hard on church music books—especially for Holy Week services and regular liturgy books. Working at Stage West in wardrobe. Completing a Master's of Applied Linguistics (all the work is done, and now she waits for convocation in May 2008 to receive the degree).

Memorable moments for Kevin were successfully completing the second level of MicroStation at SAIT. Gaining a godson, Kyle, who is finish up a university degree. Being part of the church camp staff in the kitchen. Saying goodbye to "Aunt" Ruth and "Uncle" Raymond who joined the Lord and each other this year. Organizing an Amazing Race (based on the hit t.v. series) for the inter-church Orthodox youth group. It was a hit!

Joint memorable moments include our trip to Cuba in June... it was wonderful! The flooding of our suite... it was not wonderful! We were displaced which caused an interesting summer as we packed and moved around a couple times, but then stayed with our friends the Penner's (which caused some memorable moments of friendship) during most of July and August until we moved to Winnipeg. Things went very smoothly and we were quite calm about it all... but it was definitely a crazy time.

What are we doing in Winnipeg? AE's dad has relapsed again which prompted our decision to move. The news came while we were already displaced, so we were in a better frame of mind to just up and move since everything was packed anyway. In Winnipeg, Kevin is studying a M. Div. at the University of Winnipeg as a step towards becoming a deacon in the Orthodox church. AE is currently working at a Christian bookstore (Hull's) and teaching dance (creative movement, ballet, tap, and jazz). Kevin will most likely be looking for part-time work and AE will most likely be looking for part-time job number three after the holidays. We are settling nicely, but it seems that there will be constant adjustment required over the next while. We are attending a small mission parish that meets right across the street from us which is ever so convenient! Dad is doing well right now, all things considered.

Please continue to pray for us in all things.

Love, Kevin and AmandaEve Wigglesworth
